Learning to Learn Online

This course is entirely free and open to everyone.

Learn how online education differs from traditional classrooms while developing your own personal plan and strategies for online learning success.

This course is offered by Athabasca University and Contact North | Contact Nord. Explore the fundamentals of the learning process and various models of online courses to determine your learning preferences and which forms of online learning are best for you.

Activities address common misconceptions, frustrations and fears about online learning, and introduce techniques to help overcome such obstacles and gain confidence as a learner.

- Next 5-week offering: January 18 - February 21, 2021
- 5 hours per week (25 hours total)
- Free, online, and open to everyone

FACTS, FLUFF & FAKE NEWS: MAKING SENSE OF THE INTERNET

Wednesday, November 18 & 25, 2020

10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. EST

Learning System: Adobe Connect (LIVE Classes)

Do you find yourself having difficulty figuring out what is what on the Internet? This course can help! In this 2-part course, we look at tools to build our media literacy. We give tips on how to spot bad information, determine bias, and do simple fact checks. This course is designed to take the stress out of looking for information online and can help you become more comfortable in information seeking for all your needs. Note: This is a 2-session course.

This course is provided by the Good Learning Anywhere program from Sioux-Hudson Literacy Council.
